Updated testing criteria for COVID-19

April 1, 2020

New Mexico Department of Health (NMDOH) has updated its guidance for COVID-19 testing criteria to allow testing for patients without symptoms of respiratory infection if:

- The patient is a close contact or household member of a confirmed COVID-19 case OR
- The patient is a nursing home resident OR
- The patient is in a congregant setting such as a homeless shelter, group home, or detention center

For patients who are asymptomatic and do not fit the criteria described above, NMDOH does not recommend testing.

NMDOH also recommends prioritizing testing for symptomatic (fever, cough and/or shortness of breath) patients who in the 14 days prior to illness onset:

- The patient visited any international or U.S. domestic location OR
- The patient had contact with another confirmed COVID-19 case OR
- The patient is 65 years or older and/or has a chronic condition (e.g., heart disease, diabetes, lung disease)

Additional Reminders:

- COVID-19 testing does not require approval by NMDOH. COVID-19 testing is available at TriCore, LabCorp, Quest Diagnostics, and the NMDOH Scientific Laboratory Division (SLD).
- Providers will be called with SLD COVID-19 test results when they are completed. Please do not call NMDOH for results and communicate with patients that they should not call NMDOH for results. We will prioritize calling positive results first.
- It is good general practice for all healthcare workers to monitor yourself for symptoms of respiratory infection if you have direct patient contact. If you are a healthcare worker with symptoms of fever, cough and/or shortness of breath, please isolate yourself, notify your employer, and contact your own healthcare provider regarding testing and follow up care.
- We recommend that you regularly check the CDC websites on COVID-19 for the latest information.
